73             <h2>Overview</h2>
74
75                 World War I (28 July 1914 – 11 November 1918), also known as the
76                 Great War,
77                 was a global conflict between the Allies and the Central Powers.
78                 It involved Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and the Asia-
79                 Pacific.
80                 The war introduced modern warfare technologies and resulted in
81                 millions of military and civilian casualties.

86             <h2>Causes</h2>
87
88                 The war was caused by rising nationalism, imperial rivalries,
89                 militarism, and complex alliances. The assassination of Archduke
90                 Franz Ferdinand in 1914 triggered a chain reaction of war
91                 declarations
92                 across Europe, eventually drawing many nations into the 93                 conflict.
